New Website

Welcome to the City's new website. The upgraded City Website represents a commitment by the City Council and staff to move into the 21st century by enhancing communication between citizens and government via the Internet.

Historically, the website has been one of our most underutilized communication tools because it has lacked dynamic functionality that the new site will offer.

The new site will feature some of the following:

Detailed calendar of City meetings and events

Searchable site for City documents, agendas and minutes

Notify me email subscription service

Document center that provides access to important City documents

Emergency Alert to notify citizens of emergency situations in the City

We hope you like the new design and functions the new website will offer.
